

Analysis of Possible Roles of the Leader Method (LM) and Local Action Groups (LAGs) in Implementation of Environmental Programs in the Czech Rep. (CR)

A study of National Rural Observatory (O. Čepelka et al.), April 2010

Contents.

	page
1 Local action groups (LAGs) and the Leader method (LM) - a summary of main features and impacts	4
2 The principle of intersectoral partnership and its forms used in CR	6
3 The history of the program and method of LEADER in the EU (until and since 2006)	10
4 A brief history of the Leader initiative in CR	17
5 Internal organisation and activities of LAGs (legal forms, LAG bodies, activities and roles)	20
6 LAGs in CR (basic survey, LAGs implementing local strategies, co-operation of LAGs, National Network of LAGs)	30
7 Training actors within and outside LAGs	50
8 Assessment of possible relation and synergy of networks for env. education and training and of LAGs	59
9 Exercise of LAGs and LM in programs of Ministry for Environment (a survey, LM outside LAG, LAGs and LM after 2010 and 2013)	65
10 Czech bibliography and other sources as to LAG, LM and rural issues	75
Annex 1 Measures of local development strategies (strategic plans of Leader - SPL) with environmental relevance	-
Annex 2 Information about LAGs without support to implementation of SPL	-
Annex 3 Presentation of selected LAGs	-

The study can be found in Czech on www.leaderplus.cz

This webpage also include a complete database of Czech LAGs.